Introduction to delineation of appearance and character in natal astrology. The following document is a hand-written analysis of John Jay, using the principles of medieval predictive astrology. The discipline of natal astrology focuses on the fate of an individual based on a horoscope cast for the moment of birth. Within natal astrology, the 1st house occupying the eastern horizon at birth describes the native: physical vitality, appearance, and character. Between the Hellenistic and Medieval eras several specialized models were developed to assess these characteristics. They include longevity (vitality and length of life), physiognomy (form and shape of the face and body), victor of the chart (overall life purpose), manners (social conduct including ethical behavior), and temperament (elemental mix of fire, earth, air, and water with applications in medical astrology). Prior research has presented models and results for longevity (A Rectification Manual: The American Presidency, Chapter 4) and physiognomy (Astrological Physiognomy: History and Sources & Astrological Physiognomy: Empirical Tests of the Leo Rising Decan).

Victor of the Chart. Included are two competing models for computing the victor of the chart said to be the single most powerful planet in the horoscope. According to Plato's follower Porphyry, by configuration in the natal horoscope the planet signifying the victor of the chart shows the life choice made by the soul prior to incarnation. Plato explains the details of his soul model in The Myth of Er found in the closing pages of his work The Republic. Porphyry and his peer Antiochus offer specific rules for determining the victor of the chart. The method of Antiochus/Porphyry is compared to a later method for determining the victor suggested by the Jewish Rabbi Abraham ben Meir ibn Ezra, a philosopher and astrologer active in the 12th century. For a discussion of these two models, see the companion paper Victor of the Chart: Testing Methods of Antiochus/Porphyry and Ibn Ezra, which serves as a key to what is presented here.

Manners. Plato was not alone among Greek philosophers in conceiving models for the soul. Aristotle's model of vegetative, sensitive, and intellective soul levels (assigned respectively to the plant, animal, and human kingdoms) was taken up by Ptolemy, who found a correspondence between the sensitive and intellective soul and Moon and Mercury in the natal horoscope. Configuration of the Moon and Mercury, with special emphasis given to their rulers, is a second method for analyzing the soul. Ptolemy introduces this model in Tetrabiblos III.13 "Of the Quality of the Soul." Subsequent authors refer to this model as "Significators of the Soul" or "Manners." A summary template for the Moon and Mercury is presented in the paper and will be further developed in future versions.

John Jay

John Jay (December 12, 1745 O.S. or December 23, 1745 N.S. – May 17, 1829)

John Jay was an American statesman, patriot, diplomat, Founding Father of the United States, abolitionist, negotiator and signatory of the Treaty of Paris of 1783, second Governor of New York, and the first Chief Justice of the United States (1789–1795). He directed U.S. foreign policy for much of the 1780s and was an important leader of the Federalist Party after the ratification of the United States Constitution in 1788.

Jay was born into a wealthy family of merchants and New York City government officials of French and Dutch descent. He became a lawyer and joined the New York Committee of Correspondence, organizing opposition to British policies in the time preceding the American Revolution. Jay was elected to the Second Continental Congress, and served as President of the Congress. From 1779 to 1782, Jay served as the ambassador to Spain; he persuaded Spain to provide financial aid to the fledgling United States. He also served as a negotiator of the Treaty of Paris, in which Britain recognized American independence. Following the end of the war, Jay served as Secretary of Foreign Affairs, directing United States foreign policy under the Articles of Confederation government. He also served as the first Secretary of State on an interim basis.

A proponent of strong, centralized government, Jay worked to ratify the United States Constitution in New York in 1788. He was a co-author of The Federalist Papers along with Alexander Hamilton and James Madison, and wrote five of the 85 essays. After the establishment of the new federal government, Jay was appointed by President George Washington the first Chief Justice of the United States, serving from 1789 to 1795. The Jay Court experienced a light workload, deciding just four cases over six years. In 1794, while serving as Chief Justice, Jay negotiated the highly controversial Jay Treaty with Britain. Jay received a handful of electoral votes in three of the first four presidential elections, but never undertook a serious bid for the presidency.

Jay served as the Governor of New York from 1795 to 1801. Long an opponent of slavery, he helped enact a law that provided for the gradual emancipation of slaves, and the institution of slavery was abolished in New York in Jay's lifetime. In the waning days of President John Adams's administration, Jay was confirmed by the Senate for another term as Chief Justice, but he declined the position and retired to his farm in Westchester County, New York.

Stage I. Determine the Ascendant sign

Firdaria

With Saturn/Libra in the sign of its exaltation and overcoming the Sun-Moon-Mercury stellium in Capricorn, the following major life events favor the diurnal Firdaria series:

Moon-Saturn. 6-Apr-1778 to 19-Jul-1779. Elected President of Continental Congress, 10-Dec-1778.

Saturn-Saturn. 23-Dec-1785 to 19-Jul-1787. Annapolis Convention, Sep-1786; Constitutional Convention convenes, 25-May-1787.

Saturn-Mercury. 31-Oct-1793 to 27-May-1795. Nominated envoy to Britain, 16-Apr-1794; Jay Treaty signed, 19-Nov-1794; Elected NY Governor, 5-Jun-1795.

Saturn-Moon. 28-May-1795 to 21-Dec-1796. Senate ratified Jay Treaty, 24-Jun-1795; Began term as NY Governor, 1-Jul-1795; Washington signed Jay's Treaty, 14-Aug-1795.

Mars-Saturn. 23-Dec-1813 to 22-Dec-1814. During War of 1812, British burn Washington, 24-Aug-1814. Note for a diurnal figure Mars/Aquarius is the out-of-sect malefic.

Moon's Configuration

Moon separates from Sun and applies to Saturn for all diurnal hours. No help to narrow the time.

Time	Moon's Degree	Sect	Configuration
7:27 AM	7CP32	D	Moon separates from Sun and applies to Saturn
4:32 PM	12CP39	N	Moon separates from Sun and applies to Saturn

Configuration of the Chart

For a foreign envoy and the first Chief Justice of the United States, the 9th house should be strongly highlighted by placement or rulership; probably placement. There are several possibilities here: Saturn/Libra/9th; Venus/Jupiter/Sagittarius/9th, or Sun/Moon/Mercury/Capricorn/9th. At this rectification stage there is not enough information to choose; however even this observation suggests that Ascendants of Gemini and Cancer are unlikely (Taurus rising would still allow Capricorn as the 9th whole sign house) which if correct means afternoon hours between 2:27 and 4:32 PM can be ruled out.

Zodiacal Releasing from Spirit

This is a horoscope for which ZRS proved the most important Stage I rectification technique for narrowing possible Ascendant signs. The attached ZRS analysis favors L.Spirit in Aries and L.Fortune in Taurus making the fixed signs angular from Fortune. These conditions favor an Aries Ascendant.

Stage II. Determine the Ascendant's range within 1-4 degrees

Annual Profections

9-Sep-1787. Prof Ascendant conjunct Saturn. Creation of US Constitution, 17-Sep-1787. As this was perhaps John Jay's most celebrated life event given his subsequent lobbying for the ratification and position as first US Supreme Court Justice, this is a key profection for the rectification.

Stage III. Determine the exact Degree and Minute of the Ascendant

The rectification is almost entirely driven by directions of Saturn and Jupiter. Saturn/Libra will prove the victor of the horoscope and Jupiter/Sagittarius will rule the 9th house of foreign affairs, sometimes creating difficulty as Jupiter rules the North Node/Pisces/12th.

KEY – Mubtazz Scoring

Single point: assigns 1 point for each essential dignity

Early medieval: sign 5, exaltation 4, bound 3, primary triplicity lord 2, decan 1. Used by al-Kindī and Māshā'allāh.

Late medieval: sign 4, exaltation 4, triplicity lords (all) 3, bound 2, decan 1. Used by Schoener; taught by Zoller.

Fixed Stars from Janus 4.3 software. Criteria: conjunction within 2 degrees longitude.

Additional

Moon's Configuration: Moon separates from Sun and applies to Saturn, diurnal, conjunctional.

Moon-Mercury whole sign aspect? Yes. Moon and Mercury are conjunct.

Do scoring methods agree? No. Saturn (sign-based); Jupiter-Venus (bound-based)

Releaser and kadukhudhāh. Figure is diurnal and Sun/Capricorn/10th qualifies as releaser. Either Mercury as bound lord or Saturn as sign lord qualifies as the kadukhudhah. To settle this question based on life history, additional data is needed for Jay's undisclosed end-of-life illness.

If Mercury, Mercury grants 76 major years; Saturn deducts 30 minor years by superior square; yet as Mercury receives Saturn by bound Mercury appears to add back his 20 minor years for a net projection of 66 yrs. This takes John Jay to 12-Dec-1811 just prior to the outbreak of the War of 1812 with Britain which effectively reversed many of his key political achievements including Jay's Treaty of 1795 which stabilized trade with Britain.

If Saturn, Saturn grants 57 major years; Venus adds 8 minor years by sextile aspect with reception. Net projection of 65yr is similar to the projection for Mercury. Note that the projection of 57 major years takes Jay to 1802 which is the year he retired from politics.

Victor of the Chart: Saturn/Libra

John Jay's horoscope is similar to Alexander Hamilton's in that both Mercury and Saturn are contenders for the victor based on life affairs and victor scoring. Porphyry's Stage I criteria ranks Saturn with 4 points for sign and Mercury with 3 points for bound. In Hamilton's nativity, both Mercury and Saturn comprise 2 of 5 planets in a Capricorn stellium. For Jay, Saturn occupies the superior square of Capricorn which houses a 3 planet stellium of Mercury, Moon, and the Sun.

By essential dignity, Saturn/Libra in the sign of Saturn's exaltation beats Mercury. Saturn/Libra/7th also matches John Jay's key life theme of advocating for the legal precepts of the Constitution and the Federalist Party. Note that Saturn/Libra closely recapitulates the position of Saturn/Libra in the Regulus USA National Horoscope.

Manners: Saturn (sign-based), Jupiter-Venus (bound-based)
